

The Laconia Historical & Museum Society is pleased have Bill Veillette, director of the NH Historical Society, present a free program on Monday March 17th at the Laconia Public Library at 7:00 pm.

Entitled "The Preservation of New Hampshire's Past," this visually-rich slide show tells the story of the people who led the charge to preserve New Hampshire's history. From the writing of New Hampshire's first history in 1784, through the safeguarding of priceless historical documents and objects, to the preservation of its architecture, the state's past has been saved by energetic individuals whose motives did not always match those that drive us today.
